

Arkansas Papers To Demand Audit of Circulations

Losing Thousands of Dollars Due From National Advertisers.

PARKS IS SPEAKER

Highway Commissioner Discusses Future Financing Problems.

Newspaper publishers and other members of the Arkansas Press association met at the Little Rock Saturday at the annual mid-winter convention, in which plans were outlined to raise circulation standards of all Arkansas newspapers.

Unscrupulous claims as to circulation figures, and the counting of free distribution as "paid circulation," were denounced by association speakers. Fifteen member papers, including Hope Star, pledged themselves to the support of a regular circulation auditing system, to be administered by a certified public accountant. It is planned to put this system of circulation checking into effect this year.

Cost To This State
Visiting officials of the Missouri Press association told the Arkansas membership that this state is losing thousands of dollars a year in national advertising which is denied Arkansas newspapers because there is no general system of certifying circulation figures, and distinguishing between honest and dishonest claims.

Hope men who attended the convention were: Ed McCorkle and Roy Allen, of the Arkansas Printing & Stationery Co.; Curtis Cannon, former local newspaper man; and Alex. H. Washburn and Lyle M. Webb, of Hope Star.

The principal address heard at the convention was a speech on state highways, delivered by John S. Parks, publisher of the Fort Smith Southwest American and Times-Record, who is a member of the State highway commission.

The through highways must be completed, Mr. Parks said, not only because they are the major producers of gasoline tax revenue, but because "the end of gasoline note financing is not two years off."

Highway Finance
"The State of Arkansas will attempt on February 12 to sell $18,000,000 worth of gasoline notes," Mr. Parks said. "Heretofore we have commanded a good price for Arkansas securities. But this year there will be 30 American states offering securities of the same standard as our own. If they all offer the same amount as Arkansas, it will mean that the United States will be asked to absorb almost half a billion dollars in public securities, at a time when the stock and bond markets are at low ebb."

"These are things we must take into account in discussing the state highway program. I have traveled in many states recently, and it is my earnest belief that our Arkansas program compares most favorably with the programs of other states. The summer of 1930 will see our greatest advance in hard-surface pavement, for hundreds of miles of dump are settled and read for surface treatment. We should be able to complete our original plans for three trans-state concrete highways—and that will be the nucleus of all future highway programs. Once we are able to get across Arkansas in all kinds of weather, the rest of the program will take care of itself."

Arizona Prisoner Confesses Killing

Tells of Battle in Which Pennsylvania Patrolman Fell.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Walter Glenn Dague, yesterday confessed that he and Mrs. Irene Schroeder and "another man" took part in a gunfight with two Pennsylvania state highway patrolmen near Newcastle, Pa., December 27 in which Corporal Brady Paul was killed and Private Ernest Moore was wounded.

With Vernon Ackerman, an Oklahoma ex-convict, Dague and the woman were captured by a posse in the mountains near Laveen, Ariz., last Tuesday after they had kidnaped and wounded an Arizona deputy sheriff and wounded another deputy in a running gun fight. The three are in jail here charged with assault with intent to murder.

In the confession to Sheriff C. H. Wright, Dague declined to name the other man who took part in the gun fight in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Schroeder professed little interest when shown the signed confession, "I don't know anything about the thing," she said.

Sheriff Wright then handed her a photograph of her four-year-old son, Dennis, who is with friends in Pennsylvania.

Judge Accused at Murder Trial

When Gladys Mae Parks, on trial in Camden, N. J., for the murder of her two tiny charges, Timothy and Dorothy Rogers, dragged the name of Judge Joseph Corio, of Atlantic City, into one of many statements made to the police after her arrest, she flouted with a boomerang, it developed in court. Prosecutors branded this one of several instances of the defendant's "cold-bloodedness." Not only was Judge Corio exonerated at the time, but an effort to name a brother-in-law as a participant in the carting off of the little bodies also was dismissed. The defense battled for hours against the admission of the accusations.

Sound Perfected At The Saenger

Western Electric Engineers Pay Visit—Tuesday "Family Night"

Engineers of the Western Electric company who have been at work on the sound and acoustical properties of the Public-Saenger theater here, have about completed their work. Manager Mnt Press announced today.

The engineers, who were imported just before the celebration of the first anniversary of sound pictures in Hope, which is this week, have corrected certain existing faults and have installed new attachments developed especially for the latest production sound pictures.

As a feature of Sound Anniversary week, Manager Press has arranged a Family Night at Saenger this Tuesday when one ticket will admit the entire family. The talking feature Tuesday is "The KKKlster," a comedy farce, with other talking units also on the program.

'Peculiar Weather' Is Cause of Crash

14 Passengers and 2 Pilots Die When Plane Burns

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 20.—(AP)—A "peculiar weather mystery" by T. A. T. Maddux air line officials today were given for the cause of a crash near San Clemente last night of the Tri-motored Ford monoplane which killed fourteen passengers and two pilots.

The fall of the plane while en route from Hualquiente, lower California, to Los Angeles was due to "one of the peculiar weather mysteries" which blew rain from the Pacific that caused the accident.

S. S. Craig, flight superintendent at Glendale terminal, said pilots of the plane were blinded by rain and fog which hovered over the area from the ocean and St. Clemente bluff. He said that an emergency landing was being sought on account of flying conditions and disclosed reports of missing motors.

Shirley Robins To Run for Assessor

Ozan Man Enters 1930 Campaign for County Office

Shirley Robins, of Ozan, will make the race for county tax assessor, he announced today.

Mr. Robins, whose formal announcement appears in today's political column of The Star, is a well known former living three miles from Ozan. He was born and brought up in Hempstead county, and is known to hundreds of home folks.

Miss Beryl Henry Succeeds Paisley As Schools Head

High School Principal Becomes City Superintendent

HERE FOR 9 YEARS

Change In Administration Will Take Effect Next June

Miss Beryl Henry was today appointed the new superintendent of city schools effective with the end of the current school year in June, by the City Board of Education.

Miss Henry, who has been principal of Hope High School for the last nine years, will succeed D. L. Paisley, resigned, who leaves the local school next June after 14 years of service.

Miss Henry came to Hope from the superintendency of schools at Bentonville. She obtained her A. B. degree from Henderson college, and took further training at the university of Colorado, and the University of Chicago. She received her M. A. degree from Peabody college.

Miss Henry two years ago served as corresponding secretary of the Arkansas Educational association, and has also been a member of the Arkansas Textbook Commission.

At present she is a member of the Educational Research Committee of the Arkansas Educational association, which is considered one of the most important state educational committees. She is a life member of the National Educational association.

Knoxville Lawyer Receives Appointment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—An appointment to the Inter-State Commerce Commission is understood to have been offered to Hugh M. Tate, Knoxville, Tenn., lawyer who is said to have reserved his decision.

Ask Re-Hearing of Act Nos. 52 and 149

Expect Supreme Court To Give Final Decision Monday

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Two cases involving act number 52 which provides for the issuance of free auto license tags to state, county and municipalities and act number 149 providing for the county unit system of schools: upon vote of the people were submitted in Supreme court today on a motion for re-hearing. Final decision is expected Monday.

In the auto case the decision by the Supreme court last week upheld the act as constitutional in requiring that public owned motor vehicles must pay the regular license fee to the State Highway department.

Texas Sheriff Is Arrested By Prohis

Sheriff and Sixty-Two Others Captured In Liquor Raid.

GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 20.—Sheriff H. Wyatt Collins of Fort Bend county was freed on $10,000 bond and 62 other men were being held in jail here Sunday night in connection with one of the largest liquor raids ever staged in Texas.

Carl Johnson, prohibition administrator for Texas, and 30 federal agents made a raid in Richmond late Saturday to confiscate more than 1,000 bottles of whisky, 5,000 bottles of beer and a number of stills which are believed to have been supplying liquor to Houston and Galveston.

Most of the liquor was found in "Mud Alley" a thoroughfare on which the sheriff is said to own a number of houses.

The 62 men held in jail will be charged with possessing liquor before United States Commissioner Brantley Harris, according to Raymond Wisheart, assistant United States district attorney.

Gladys Mae Parks Is Given Sentence

To Serve 25 Years for Murder of Two Children

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Gladys Mae Parks was sentenced to serve 25 years of hard labor for the death of Dorothy Rogers, four-year-old and brother Timothy, two-year-old boy.

As Wabash Flood Swept Indiana

Scenes from along the Wabash river in Indiana, where records for high water have been broken, are pictured here. The outlying sections of the historic little city of Vincennes were inundated, as shown at the upper right. Motorists were forced to drive through foot-deep water to reach the bridge connecting Illinois with Vincennes, as shown at the upper left. The sandbag levee, lower left, was one of many thrown up to stem the backwater of the White river, in an effort to save Hazleton, Indiana. Indiana national guardsmen, lower right, are shown patrolling a state highway, following threats to dynamite the road and thus relieve pressure at other sections.

France Refuses Navy Limitation

Tardieu Serves Notice Intends To Proceed With Construction.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Premier Andre Tardieu served notice on the American and British naval delegations Sunday that France intends to proceed with its naval building program ending in 1942 without scrapping a single ship.

He made clear to Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald in separate talks his belief that the naval conference beginning Tuesday should not discuss figures at all, but should merely agree on whether navies ought to be limited by total tonnage or by tonnage for each class of ships.

Actual limitation or reduction should be left to the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission, he said.

Tardieu thus became a thorn in the flesh for those who had hoped France would join wholeheartedly in a specific limitation agreement. Earlier in the day Stimson and Foreign Minister Dine Grandi of Italy had assured each other they would do everything possible to limit all classes of warships.

Stimson attempted the role of a disinterested harmonizer between Italy and France, particularly in regard to the former's desire for parity with the French. But Tardieu insisted that France did not intend to reduce to meet Italy's desire. He said his government had set a goal of 800,000 tons of warships by 1942 and meant to stand by it.

Since the 800,000 ton figure is some 250,000 tons greater than the present total of French warcraft built, building, appropriated for and authorized, adherence to that goal would prevent realization of even a short term, five power agreement stabilizing fleets at practically their present strength.

Such an agreement, at least, had been the general expectation during the last few days.

Tardieu, last of the chief delegates to reach London, arrived at Liverpool station at 8:42 a. m. Sunday, and after a formal welcome move to the Carlton hotel in a car flying the tricolor. He was closed in 7895 88 78 7889

England May Require Cowcatchers On Autos

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A man catcher attached to the front of all motor vehicles is the latest device being tested by the Ministry of Transport in an effort to reduce the growing toll of fatal street accidents in Great Britain. Deaths average 15 a day.

The new life guard is fitted to cover the front wheels of cars, much like a cow-catcher on a train, and is designed to catch the car's victim along the road. Each crossbar of the guard is fitted with a sponge-like material, and at the bottom a rubber fence prevents legs or arms from getting under the wheels.

Margaret Simms To Preside Over Meeting

Miss Margaret Simms will be in charge of the meeting of the Hope & P. W. Club's meeting at the Hotel Barlow tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. She has planned an "Emblem" program and no member can afford to be absent.

Plans will also be discussed for the Sixth District Conference to be held here February 22 and 24. Hope is very fortunate to have the honor of entertaining this meeting.

Nashville People In Florida Bombing

Arkansans Guest of Banker as Home Is Wrecked By Explosion.

OVEIDO, Fla., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Oveido assumed the aspect of a town under martial law as Sheriff J. F. McClelland of Sanford and many deputies and special volunteers maintained an automobile patrol of the community following the dynamiting of a residence here Saturday night.

The home dynamited was that of Capt. B. G. Smith, vice president of the bank of Oveido. O. P. Sloan, town marshal, said he was convinced that the attack on the residence and the dynamiting of the bank of Oveido several months ago were closely connected.

Members of the Sanford American Legion post armed with rifles patrolled the grounds of the Smith home after bombing occurred.

Six persons were in the Smith home at the time, but none was injured, all being in a part of the house which was undamaged. Captain and Mrs. Smith were entertaining Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Hopkins and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hopkins of Nashville, Ark., when the blast occurred.

Sheriff Frank Karel of Orange county said the only clue he had gained was that members of the Smith family saw a car speeding down Main street after they ran from the house following the blast.

Around The World In 10 Days Is His Goal With An Airplane

CLEVELAND, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A modern Jules Verne steps forward to encircle the world in 10 days by airplane.

The Jules Verne of modern day pictured man girding the world in 45 days; Mears and Collier completed their globe tour in less than 21 days; Harry A. Husted, Cleveland manufacturer, hopes to pole wild fancy and solid achievement.

Husted, arranging changes in the Fokker F-32 he has ordered for the trip, plans to leave the west coast June 15, off the beaten track over boldly projected routes.

Hope Man Found In Auto Wreck

Found Almost Frozen To Death Near Highway Bridge.

Jack Petree of this city was found almost frozen from his waist down in the wreckage of his automobile near the new Saline river highway bridge between Nashville and Lockesburg early Sunday morning.

Petree ran his car off an embankment while making the detour around the bridge and remained in the car all night. He was found by officers who investigated the accident.

Petree was returning to this city from an Oklahoma trip, when the accident occurred.

According to a report this morning from relatives here, his condition is much improved. It was first thought that he would lose his lower limbs, amputation being necessary.

Petree has been a resident of Hope for some time, being employed by the Hope Auto company here.

Hearing Will Be Held Wednesday

Secretary Mellon To Be Witness Before Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon will be the first witness before the House Expenditures Committee at a hearing to begin next Wednesday on a proposal of President Hoover to transfer the prohibition enforcement unit from the Treasury department to the Justice department.

Chairman Williamson of the Expenditures committee, announced that Attorney General Mitchell will also appear, and prohibition commissioner James M. Moran is expected to testify. The hearing will occupy three days time it was believed by the committee.

There will also be "household duties." Husted will be the cook. He can cook anything, he said except pies.

Catwalks around each of the four Pratt and Whitney Wasps will permit overhauling of motors in flight. The engines will be mounted in two tandem.

The fuel and oil will be of special type and the plane, which will weigh 12,570 pounds, will be able to carry 15,500 pounds of fuel. Between 60 and 88 gallons an hour is the anticipated gasoline consumption.

Says 18th Amendment Should Be Repealed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Asserting that "as an experiment, noble or otherwise, prohibition has failed," Representative Mary K. Norton, democrat, N. J., a wet, introduced resolution today to amend the constitution or the repealing of the 18th amendment.

Convicts Captured After Gun Battle

One-Half Hour Gun Battle Precedes Their Capture.

MACON, Ga., Jan. 20.—(P)—Three escaped convicts from West Virginia were captured in the swamps four miles northwest of Macon today by a posse.

Two of the convicts were wounded and a pistol of the third was shot from his hand in a half-hour gun fight which preceded their capture.

The convicts were identified as Arrian Dios, slightly wounded, and Basil Childress, seriously wounded.

Dates For Co-Op. School Are Set

Ten Out-of-State Speakers Listed On Three-Day Program.

The third annual Cooperative Marketing School will be held at Little Rock, February 11-13, by the Extension Service of the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture and the Federal Farm Board, cooperating.

Ten out-of-state speakers will take part on the program. Farm Board representatives will be J. W. Jones, B. B. Derrick, and J. S. Hatcock all of the Division of Cooperative Marketing. Other out-of-state speakers will include: J. A. Evans, G. F. Crawford, O. C. Stine, and J. R. Cosgrove, all of Washington, D. C.; Abe D. Waldeur, Memphis, Tenn.; C. A. Stewart, executive secretary of the National Live-stock Producers Association; and Sam L. Morley, general manager of the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Association.

University faculty members who will also appear on the program are: President J. C. Nuttall, Dean Dan T. Gray, Dr. C. O. Brannen, Dr. B. M. Gile and Prof. J. A. Dickey. Governor Harvey Parnell will make an address, and S. Burgess of the Arkansas Cotton Growers' Association will lead in a discussion on recent developments in the cotton marketing situation.

The cooperative marketing school has for its objective a study of marketing conditions and methods so that authoritative recommendations in practice may be made to workers throughout the state. The cooperation of the Federal Farm Board makes the meeting this year a very important one for people interested in improving marketing facilities for the farmers of Arkansas.

Former Texas Judge On Trial Today for Murder

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 20.—(AP)—John W. Brady, former judge of third court of civil appeals of Texas, and one of the most prominent attorneys in that state went on trial today on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Lehigh Highsmith, 28-year-old stenographer, last November.

20,000 Acres Inundated By Waters of St. Francis

FARAGOUL, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Flood waters resulting from four breaks in the St. Francis river at Bertig, Ark., today had inundated approximately 20,000 in Greene county.

A break at Minors, Ark., yesterday is expected to increase water covered land by several thousand acres in this county.

Booth To Lecture Henderson State

Anglo-American Relations and World Peace To Be Discussed.

C. Douglas Booth, the well known English writer and publisher will speak at Henderson State Teachers College on "Anglo-American Relations and World Peace" under the auspices of the International Relations Club of the college. Mr. Booth will be at Henderson College January 22, 23 and 24.

Mr. Booth is a member of the Royal Institute of International Affairs in England and has spent many years in the Near East and Southern Europe studying the problems of these countries.

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, under whose guidance International Relations Clubs have been formed in hundreds of colleges all over this country and Europe, is responsible for Mr. Booth's visit to Arkadelphia. Miss Amy Hemmingsway Jones is National Secretary of the International Relations Club.

New Break On St. Francis River Is Tenth In 6 Days

Water Pouring Through Gap 10 Miles South of Marked Tree

200 FAMILIES FLEE

More Than 1,000 Additional Acres Will Be Under Water.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 20.—The St. Francis river broke through a dyke 10 miles south of Marked Tree, Ark., it was reported today, being the 10th break on the river within six days.

More than two hundred men were held in freezing weather all night to hold the break in the levee. It was known as floodway dyke and contained one of the most important levees between Marked Tree and the mouth of the river. Water swept through Craighigh county and flooded more than 1,000 additional acres and was reported to be within one mile of Marked Tree, Mo., at noon.

More than 200 families were forced to seek higher ground from the waters moving in around their homes. A heavy loss in live stock was reported, being trapped by the water. The Anderson-Tulley and Tschud Lumber companies are threatened by new breaks, and a crew of men are working frantically to check the flow through the gap. Unless checked, many acres will be flooded in the lower St. Francis river bottoms. The river was reported rising at Marked Tree today, but the crest is expected to reach there by Wednesday.

Three Killed, Two Injured In Crash

No Explanation of Fatal Crash Into Lake At Palm Beach

PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 20.—Three men were killed and two probably fatally injured, late Sunday when a cabin monoplane crashed into Lake Worth here.

The dead: William Lindley, pilot; Dayton Beach; Arthur L. Umphrey, mechanic; Dayton Beach. The injured: Ed Lipsky, believed to be a mechanic; Dayton Beach; Ed S. Butler, Miami; Elber Skossell, West Palm Beach.

The cause of the crash was unknown. Witnesses said the plane evidently was trying to land on the lake and fell from a height of about 500 feet.

The plane was owned by the Florida Airways company at Daytona Beach and had been equipped with pontoons for water landings. The party was believed to have been en route from west end in the Bahamas to Daytona Beach.

Rain Or Snow Is Tuesday's Forecast

Colder Weather Is Also Predicted By Weather Bureau.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Rain or snow and colder temperatures were the forecast issued by the weather bureau for Arkansas today and tomorrow. The week end witnessed a moderation from record cold conditions which prevailed Friday and Saturday.

The thermometer readings in most sections of the state today are between 25 and 30 degrees above zero. The prediction for Little Rock tonight is 30 degrees above with a forecast of colder weather tomorrow.

J. R. Clements, 79 whose body was found Friday in a field near Clarkdale is believed to have died as a result from exposure Saturday. It was reported he had been missing from his home since early Wednesday.

England's Annual Egg Bill At 16,000,000 Pounds

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Six billion eggs yearly is the consumption of Great Britain. The ministry of agriculture says that 15,000,000 pounds worth of eggs are imported every year.

South Africa is the leading egg producing section. While South Africa sends fresh eggs to Great Britain without the use of cold storage they nevertheless are subject to a rigid dominion inspection. Eggs coming from the Continent of Europe do not undergo this inspection.

100 Army Tents Are Sent To Flooded Areas

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 20.—(P)—One hundred army tents were ordered sent to Blytheville, Ark., by the Arkansas National Guard today for the use in housing the flood sufferers in the Big Lake and St. Francis districts. The tents were requested by the Red Cross organization and will be used by them in housing the refugees.

One Last Word

IN A paid advertisement last Friday our good friend and neighbor Will Atkins closed his case against the public pool halls of Hope.

Mr. Atkins believes that this is a community issue. We agree with him. A public pool hall is, and probably always will be, an issue among self-governing people.

Mr. Atkins believes, sincerely, that the answer to this issue is the closing up of the pool halls. He believes Hope would be a better city because of it. We disagree with him.

He quotes the need of protecting young boys from the temptation of gambling, idleness and their accompanying evils. Our answer to that is, that the regulation of public pool halls is a duty which falls squarely upon the shoulders of every city government. In an emergency it would be advisable to close up the pool halls, of course. But we have observed no emergency.

Mr. Atkins, in his statement last Friday, referred to the stand which The Editor of The Star "has taken in behalf of public pool halls." It is hardly that. Our stand is merely in behalf of sound government.

If there is one solitary thing that a newspaper can contribute to constructive public opinion, it is the stopping of unnecessary laws when the way is open to regulation.

For all we know we may be defending the unpopular side of the public pool hall question. But we take the position that a city is the dwelling place of many and diverse people. The habits and conveniences of all—within certain limits—should be considered. That is how we get along as a self-governing people.

Pool halls belong to adult men, of course. It is just as reasonable to presume that boys can be thrown out of pool halls, as that the pool halls can be thrown out of Hope.

All that we can do as a conscientious newspaper is to recommend that our citizens determine whether we have failed at the first before trying the second.

State Efficiency

WE HAVE mentioned the possibility of opposition largely from those and the friends of those whom the recommendations of the Municipal Research Bureau will throw out of jobs.

Now, just for instance, the State Railroad Commission so far as railroads are concerned has very little to do with them and has no power whatever. It takes up rate cases occasionally but a rate bureau could do better. It handles the issuing of various stocks and various other matters, including the regulation of buses and the control of ice plants, which the last legislature saddled on them to give them something to do.

Suppose we abolish that commission. Let the issuing of stock permits go to the office of the attorney general, which must take action in case of any infractions anyway; let the buses be placed under the highway commission and the Supreme Court has done away with the ice bill. Suppose we should say, "Well, the extension service does very well with agricultural education; let's abolish the department of agriculture and put in a market bureau—let's abolish half a dozen other commissions and put in an efficient industrial extension service and so on.

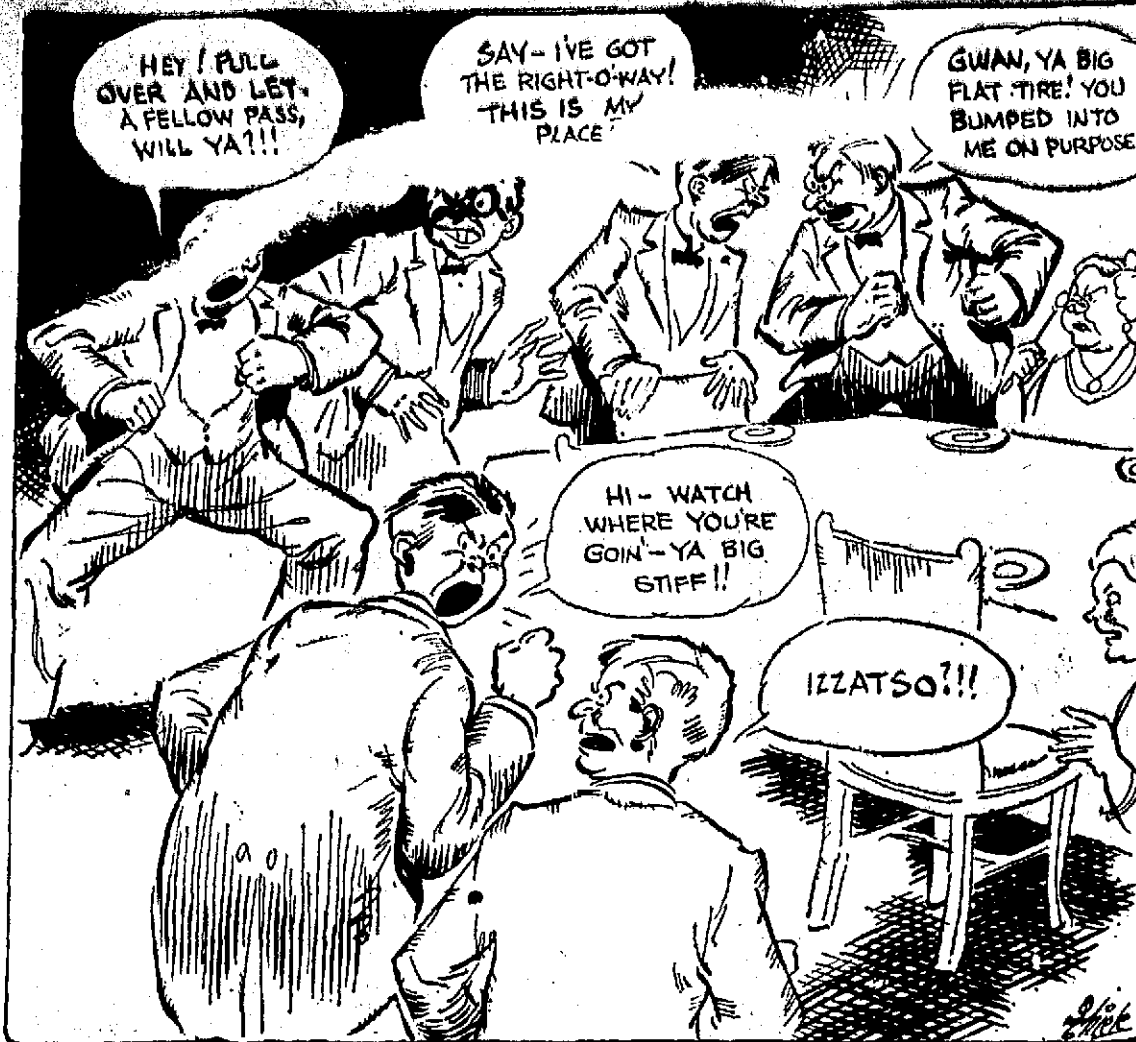

We don't say that the Municipal Research Bureau will make such suggestions, but suppose it should. You certainly would hear a howl go up from the payroll boys.

Mr. A. B. Hill has been making some research with reference to expenditures in the last legislature. He listed all of the employees and the amounts each got. We glanced over the list and saw at least a dozen men and women who to our certain knowledge never worked a day in the legislature. I spoke to one of them on the street about the fact that he had drawn as salary $360 of the state's money and had never reported, and he laughed about it. "Well," says he, "I'm willing to quit if the rest are—but as long as there are others getting by with it I don't see where I should stop."

The printing bill was twice what it should have been and the incidental expenses were an outrage. Any business in the world that spent as much money and got as little for the money as the state of Arkansas got at the last legislature certainly would go broke in a fortnight.

There is probably some politics in Mr. Parnell employing the Municipal Research Bureau. But politics or no politics, the principle is right and any man, I don't care who he is, that will bring about this survey and then see that the recommendations are followed, will be doing a service to the state of Arkansas.—Arkansas Farmer.

If We Autoists Used the Same Manners in Company That Most of Us Use on the Highways!

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

BARBS

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—On Christmas Day Mr. F. Scott McBride, the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, proclaimed in mimeographed handouts to the press that prohibition was the great Santa Claus of the American people.

But to President Hoover, prohibition much more resembles Macbeth, the gent who murdered sleep. Especially of late.

The recent ballyhoo about enforcement has been singularly covered with aspects of ignorance, hypocrisy and cowardice, but that doesn't let Mr. Hoover out.

The Great White Father is always the goat on this issue. He is who is supposed to administer and enforce the laws. Agents and coast guardsmen have to do the raiding and shooting and above them there are administrators, commissioners and other officers, to see that they do it, but in supreme command is the president.

He's Always a Target

The sad state of prohibition enforcement makes him a shining mark. For anyone who wants to take a few shots at him it provides bricksbats always at hand. When he is charged with failing to achieve satisfactory enforcement the charge can't be denied. All a poor president can do is to assure everyone of his good intentions and promise to try like the dickens to do a better job.

It doesn't make any difference whether a law can be enforced or not. As regards prohibition, there are two schools of thought on that. Mr. Hoover might believe it couldn't be enforced, but he wouldn't dare say so. He would have to carry on just as if he thought it could.

The notion that the president needed Senator Borah to tell him that the law wasn't being enforced is tinged with absurdity. The incident was chiefly valuable as demonstrating the value of ballyhoo. After Borah's blast Mr. Hoover had to pretend a sudden excitement over such astonishing revelations and act as if the wool had been pulled from his eyes. It may be too much to suggest that Senator Borah deliberately sought to embarrass the president, but it was obvious enough that he didn't mind if he did. The contrast in the attitudes of Harding, Coolidge and Hoover toward prohibition enforcement seems to be that Hoover is more conscientious about it. One can also say for Hoover that he has not been in office very long and can hardly be expected to do in less than a year what his predecessors failed to do in eight.

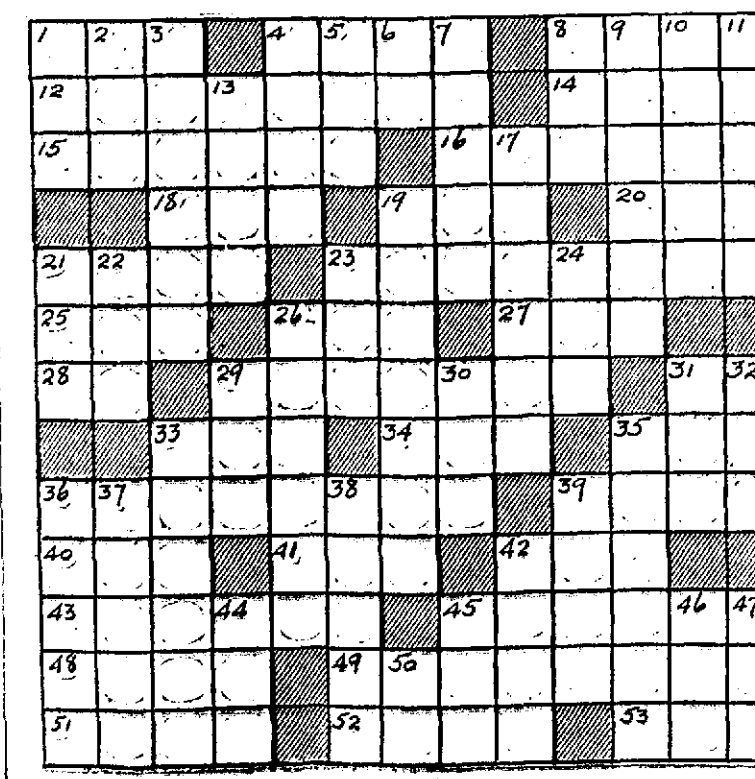

He is fortunate in retaining the support of the dry organizations, with their control of Congress. The organized dries are not those engaged in hectoring him now. They have even come to the defense of his chief enforcement officials in the face of Borah's demands for a "top to bottom" cleanup. Some of them think all this hollering from the Senate is timely and ought to be helpful in prodding the president, but most of them are convinced that Mr. Hoover has always meant to do right by their cause. They don't dare believe anything else, as a matter of fact, because they pawned their clothes on him in 1928.

What with the prisons so full of prohibition offenders, a first-class murderer has to be put on the waiting list in most states.

The pace-setters

KEEPING-UP-WITH-THE-JONESES is no mere vagary of the cartooner. It is an actual condition in every city, town, village and hamlet of this great country.

There is a Jones in every locality to set the pace. But the average Jones is not a rich man—far from it. He has a good job, he dresses well, he is a good talker and splendid company. Jones is always the gentleman, welcomes at business conventions, public dinners and social gatherings alike. Mrs. Jones is envied as a successful hostess. Every woman in her set, and out of it, seeks bids to her bridge parties and other social functions. Their home is cozy, tastefully furnished and provided with most of the modern conveniences.

"How do they do it?" ask the neighbors. "We have as much money as they. Socially we are their equals." But without seeming to try, without putting on any "dog," the Joneses set the pace just the same. They have learned from reading advertisements how to have many desirable things at little cost. They keep up to date on almost everything—just reading advertisements.

Keeping-up-with-the-Joneses is a comparatively easy matter—other things being equal. Read the advertisements regularly. Study them. Remember what you learn. Then, when you are in the market for anything, you will know, just as they do, what kind to buy. Soon you'll find yourself saving money, yet having more than you ever had. You'll find folks wondering how you do it. Oh, yes! It's fairly easy, if you make the most of your opportunities.

Advertisements are opportunities . . . study them to your own advantage.

Music Club Has A Good Meeting

Life of Dr. Edward McDowell Was Discussed By Members.

The Friday Music Club held the most interesting meeting of the year Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. M. LaGrone. It was "McDowell Day," with the study and program centered on Dr. Edward McDowell, the foremost musician and tone poet that America has produced. Some most interesting and illuminating material on the life and the different phases of the work of Dr. McDowell was presented by Mesdames Grames, Davenport, McNeill and Rounton. Mrs. R. M. LaGrone explained the work of the Peterborough colony, formed by Dr. McDowell himself, and continued in his memory for the purpose of furnishing promising young musicians and artists with the quiet and the inspirational surroundings conducive to creative work. Most gracious letters from Mrs. McDowell, the composers widow, were read in regard to his work, to which she has dedicated here efforts for more than twenty years. Following is the complete program:

Round table—Edward McDonald—led by Mrs. Clyde Hill.
Songs, Constaney op 58 no. 1, Sunrise op 58 No. 2—Mrs. Frank Ward.
Piano, Night by the Sea.
The Peterborough Colony—Mrs. R. M. LaGrone.
Songs, Deserted, The Robin Sing in the Apple Tree—Mrs. Tolbet Feld.
Piano, In Deep Woods op 62 No. 5, Midsummer op 62 No. 2—Mrs. Ralph Rounton.
Study Club—Mrs. W. P. Singleton.

Bandit Trapped After Shooting Two

The capture of Walter Gimble, youthful bandit, pictured above, right, cost the life of one man and resulted in the serious injury of another in the crowd of citizens who chased him after he had held up and robbed a grocery store at Belleville, N. J. Trapped in an alley, he had turned and shot down two of his pursuers. Questioned by Police chief Michael J. Flynn, shown at the left, Gimble is said to have confessed other hold-ups in eastern cities.

CHEVROLET SIX

is a sensational value!

Every investigation of the new Chevrolet Six must lead to a single definite conclusion—dollar for dollar, it offers more than ever before!

- More Performance—for the new Chevrolet has a great six-cylinder valve-in-head engine—increased to 50 horsepower . . . remarkably smooth and quiet . . . and capable of carrying you along with ease at every driving speed.
- More Comfort—for the four long semi-elliptic springs are under the cushioned control of Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers!
- More Safety—for the braking system has been re-designed . . . with fully-enclosed, internal-expanding, weather-proof brakes, both front and rear! Rain or shine—when you put your foot down, you stop!
- More Beauty—for the new bodies are built by Fisher . . . with all the style, smartness and distinction for which the Fisher name is famous.
- In hardware, upholstery, construction and finish—Chevrolet coachwork is unapproached at the price!
- More Stamina—for the new Chevrolet has a stronger rear axle, a heavier crankshaft and a sturdier transmission!
- More Value—for the new Chevrolet is a smoother, faster, better Six—yet it sells in the price range of the four!

The President of Harvard
The President of Harvard, Lawrence Lowell, has been elected to the office of the National Amateur Athletic Union.

From time to time, says Dr. Lowell, it is worth while to ask ourselves what is the object for which we are striving. We have always thought the object was to beat Yale, but Dr. Lowell's words sent us off on a new tack. The idea, as he holds, is that athletics should give healthful pleasure to all. Let all the students in on the football game. Instead of sitting in the stands, let them play. This brings up the question of who is to sit in the stands and what for. You can't bring back the alumni to watch the students out there having a little healthful pleasure among themselves.

Stadium of Houghton
Harvard is a strange place from which to send forth this protest against over-emphasis of the spectacular. Harvard's stadium was the first great football arena and others copied it. In the cement horseshoe near the Charles river, the great Percy Houghton perched as a god, on the top of a stand which might have been his throne. There sat Houghton with field glasses and a megaphone in the golden age of Crimson football. Before Houghton, football was brute strength and brawn. The game had not dreamed of the spectacular in the scope that Percy Houghton was to enact it. He brought cunning to the game. They called him the Father of Football Psychology. He gave the game new strategy that blossomed forth into a whole gob of spectacular plays. And at that time it was spectacular plays that Harvard wanted; it took spectacular plays to beat Yale.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Lew Massey of Philadelphia scored two knockouts, won 12 other bouts and lost none during 1929. But the decision that gave him the verdict over Johnny Datto recently was the most atrocious ever foisted upon the public, even in Philadelphia. The big Florida ballyhoo is on. The boys are beginning to say that maybe it was more Von Porat's fault than it was Phil Scott's that the Christmas Milk Fund Showed the way it did. Muldoon, the Solid Man, thinks Phil Scott is a better fighter than most of the experts give him credit for. Gene Saragen, who was the recent Miami tournament, started in the game as a fiddle. For that matter, so did Hagen, Chick Evans, Francis Quinn and Johnny Farrell. Quinn, Faber and Grimes are the only spitball pitchers left in baseball.

Spectacular? Oh, Very
It was Houghton who developed scouting to its full possibilities. He brought to the game specialists. He would send in a line plunger, pull out the plunger for a drop-kicker and then remove the educated toe for a man who could punt far and often. He used every ounce of skill, energy and strength in the right place and at the right time. Pacing up and down the sidelines, he smoked cigarette after cigarette, concentrating on every flicker of football life on the field out there before him. It is no wonder he died at 49.

He called Yale a "big bluff" when he went to Harvard in 1908. Football at Cambridge was in the doldrums then. Houghton lifted it out, called Yale's bluff and beat Eli with a plunger, a drop-kicker and a punter. Another year he built a line for Brinkley that never once let an enemy sift through. Another year, with Brickley out of the game, he took Eddie Hahan, Mal Logan, Bilbo Bradley and Hug Francke and made of the four a hard running attack. Spectacular? Les it beat Yale, 36 to 0.

Undeclared Swimmer Declines Comeback.

Lisbon Jan. 20 (AP)—Celeste Carvalho Portugal's beautiful champion woman swimmer, has definitely given up swimming.

Since her marriage last year, the 23-year-old mermaid has not only refused to compete in swimming events but also rejected an alluring offer to appear on the music-hall stage.

In a race across the treacherous waters of the Tagus, two years ago, she beat 25 contestants and reached the other side of the river three yards ahead of her next competitor. Her most notable achievement, however, was a swim from Xabregas to Alges, on the Tagus, a distance of 10 miles. She has been undeclared by any other woman swimmer.

Here Is "Story" of Fight Between Sharkey and Scott

Old Phineas T. Barnum was not roasting through his derby when he forgot himself one day and publicly placed the birthrate of the foot as one per minute. But they are sending a gent named Scott into the ring with one Jack Sharkey down in Miami, Feb. 27, and we are wondering if Madison Square Garden doesn't think Phineas was bashful.

For there persist memories of the Scott entry that even the conviction of Solid Man Muldoon that Scott is a fighting man will not erase. One of these is still fresh. It is the picture of Scott, swooping to the ring in a beautiful spiral after being tapped on the hip by Otto Von Porat.

Still another of these persistent memories is of Phil Scott claiming foul in his bout with Campolo when the Gaucha bounced a rude fist off Phil's eye and Phillip appealed to Referee Art Donovan to disqualify Campolo as this was a palpable foul. Mr. Donovan probably was unaware of the new rules by which a bust in the eye is foul tactics so he told Phil to be about his business, which was supposed to be prize fighting.

There is yet another plaintive note which persistently echoes in our ear. It is the scream to which Scott gave vent when he ran into one of Johnny Risco's body punches in their fight in Cleveland. Phil sank to the floor wearing his best dying gladiator's face and regarded Referee Daisy Haley with the mien of a sick swan. Mr. Haley never had heard of the new style by which a sock in the ribs is illegal, so he bade Phillip to be up and doing.

Scott has claimed foul 1 times if scattered records are correct, and this claim has been granted nine times. Among the cauliflowerers from whom Scott has won on fouls are George Cook, Ricardo Bertazzolo, Armando de Corralis, Yale Okun, Guardsman Penwill and Otto Von Porat, quite a few of them palpable palookas.

It was Scott's victory over Von Porat, via the foul route, that led to adoption of a measure by the New York boxing fathers, cutting the wages of fighters involved in foul affairs.

Mr. Sharkey, the other half of the Miami match, also has been known to yell such on what we cannot repress calling divers occasions. It was his habit that probably cost him the fight with Dempsey. Referees who know that a cauliflower is in the habit of yodeling murder are not so ready to admit claims of foul. And when Dempsey did sink one below the gob's belt, followed by a crusher to the point of the jaw no foul was allowed.

We are furnishing without request a round by round description of the battle at Miami Feb. 27, and giving it to you in advance. Here it is:

Round One
Sharkey fainted. Scott fainted. FLASH—Sharkey wins! That's all. There isn't any more. Please do not step on the women and children on your way out.

Six 'Muleriders' Leave A. & M. Grid

Loss of Six Stars To Hamper 1930 Football Team.

MAGNOLIA, Jan. 20.—Due in part to sickness and graduation, six of the famous 1929 Muleriders have withdrawn from A. & M. College since the end of the past semester, January 11.

Jason Greer, the huge 200-pound, six foot two, all-state tackle, has gone with his sick mother to Arizona, where they will reside until she is well again. Greer has also filled the center berth on the varsity basketball team and will be missed there very much as well as in football.

Jasper Goza, the star four-year football guard from Sparkman, Buck Humphries, the Muleriders' long-punting and broken field running half back; Custer Ross, '28 football captain and hard plunging halfback; the 1929 captain, Jeff Connolly; and Paul Umbach, Magnolia's two brainy ends, have all left to enroll in the University of Wyoming, where they will continue their education towards a bachelor's degree.

From the loss of these six stars it might be implied that the 1930 Mulerider football team will be much weaker and less experienced than the past one; nevertheless, much veteran material will be back, which, with the great number of newcomers, promises to develop into as good a team, if not a better team than the champions of '29.

'Blond Gunwoman' Captured in Arizona

Head of Legion Makes Appeal To Arkansas Leaders

The leaders of The American Legion in this state have received personal letters from O. L. Bodenhamer, national commander of the Legion outlining the present major objective of the Legion as the strengthening of the Legion in membership to aid the passage of universal draft legislation at this session of congress. The earnestness of the veterans of the World War in the Legion's legislative program is shown by their support through membership.

"The success of the Legion this year is the responsibility of the present officers," the national commander's appeal reads in part.

A brief statement with the letter tells just how the Legion stands and what it wants. "Our hospital bill was passed last month. We now want this universal draft legislation passed in January."

"We favor universal draft because the underlying principle is fundamentally right and fair and just. We believe that all men and all property share proportionately the benefits accruing from victory, and that all men and all property would share proportionately in the loss accruing from defeat. All men and all property, therefore, should share equally and proportionately the burdens of war. In order to share the burdens of war equally and proportionately, it is necessary that all men and all property serve equally during the time of war and that they share equally the responsibilities developing after war."

"This seems a fair principle provided it can be put into operation under a plan which would insure the desired results. Certainly, the principle is worthy of study and investigation with the prospect of determining the proper plan of operation."

"And this is just what the Legion is asking for! We want the principle of universal service studied by competent people and we want these people to decide upon the terms and conditions of the plan; to put this principle into effect. Certainly, there is nothing unfair about such a request."

"The Reed-Wainwright resolution in congress, which we are supporting, was prepared by the Legion. This resolution, if adopted, will create a commission composed of members of the senate and house together with representatives of the different elements of American life and business, for the Naval Conference Starts TuesdayOpening Session To Be Held In The Royal Gallery.

On January 21st and continuing for some weeks in London, England, there will be held the first session of the Five-Power conference on Naval Armaments, the members consisting of the United States of America, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan. The opening session will be held in the Royal Gallery of the House of Lords, subsequent sessions St. James' Palace.

In addition to the officially appointed delegates, of whom there will be about 50 representing these countries, there will be many experts and advisors. The American delegation will consist of: Secretary of State, Henry L. Stimson, chairman; Senator David I. Reed, of Pennsylvania; Senator Joseph T. Robinson, from Arkansas; Honorable Hugh S. Gibson, Ambassador to Belgium; Secretary of the Navy, Charles Francis Adams; General Charles G. Dawes, Ambassador to Great Britain; Honorable Dwight W. Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico; Admiral William V. Pratt, Commander-in-Chief of the Fleet; Admiral Hilary P. Jones retired; Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics; Rear Admiral Joel R. P. Eingle, President of the Naval War College, Newport, R. I.; Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, Chief of the Bureau of Engineering; Rear Admiral Arthur R. Hepburn, Chief of Staff, Commander-in-Chief of the United States Fleet; Captain Alexander H. Van Keuren, Chief of the Design Division, Bureau of Construction and Repair; Captain W. H. Smyth, member of the special board on naval ordinance; Commander Harold C. Train, on duty with the naval general board; Lieutenant Commander Charles W. A. Campbell, aide and flag lieutenant to the Commander-in-

Chief United States Fleet. The invitation to the conference was issued by the Foreign Office of Great Britain and, according to Ramsey MacDonald; "There will be only one subject on the agenda, and that will be, how the powers represented can best agree upon the reduction and limitation of war vessels and upon mutually accepted naval strength. Within this one subject there is no limit to the length the conference may go. The procedure is a matter for discussion between the Governments concerned and for the decision by the conference itself."

In a joint statement issued by President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald, it was stated that the Kellogg Pact would be made the basis of the conference.

In a document issued by the World Alliance for International Friendship dealing with the "cost of armed peace" President Hoover's recent message to Congress is quoted as follows: "A leading industry in one Texas county is growing rose plants, 40 carloads being shipped from one town alone in a year."

Which Princess Will Wales Marry?

With the bachelor Prince of Wales making no effort to find himself a bride, the list of European princesses eligible to share the throne of the British kingdom is fast dwindling. Marriage of pretty Marie Jose, of Belgium, reduced the field to eight, and two more royal marriages are in prospect. The princesses from whose ranks Wales must choose a bride, if he marries, are: Ingrid of Sweden, 19, tall, blond, socially popular and a favorite prospect; Maria Cristina of Spain, 18, one of the best-dressed princesses; Beatrix of Spain, 20, brunet and a fine dancer; Giovanna of Italy, 22, with coal-black hair, but whose eyes are set on the Bulgarian throne; Juliana of Holland, 20, blond and buxom, but whose marriage to a Teuton prince seems a certainty; Eudoxia of Bulgaria, 31, domestically inclined and caretaker of the papale of her bachelor brother, Boris; Hilda of Luxembourg, 32, blond and an exceptionally fine cook; Ileana of Rumania, 20, a real blond beauty and taller than the prince.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

American Farmers
MAKE BETTER CROPS

The coming year rounds out an even century since the first use of Chilean Nitrate of Soda in the United States.

Andrew Jackson, famous "Old Hickory", of Tennessee, was President of the United States in 1830 when the first cargo of this nitrogen fertilizer arrived by sailing vessel from far-off Chile. That was years before we had the telephone, the telegraph.

TO-DAY—On sheer merit alone... strictly on the basis of the good it has done, Chilean Nitrate to-day is the standard nitrogen fertilizer. Last year more than 800,000 farmers used it to make more money from their crops. Every cotton champion in the South... and every corn champion... made his winning crop with Chilean Nitrate.

For nearly half a century, Experiment Stations have proved the value of Chilean Nitrate. In Pennsylvania, for instance, experiments have been conducted continuously since 1881! The success obtained by farmers who use it, leads many more each year to follow their example. Chilean Nitrate pays back its small cost many times over.

Do not confuse Chilean Nitrate with other fertilizers. It is the world's only natural nitrate nitrogen. Not synthetic, but the real thing, mined and refined in Chile and nowhere else. It will pay you to insist on Chilean Nitrate. It is quick-acting food for almost every crop that grows... proved by 100 years of use.

Religion May Not Bar Royal Match

Differences in religion may not prevent the marriage of this royal pair, for Europe's only bachelor king, Boris of Bulgaria, shown below, is said to have appealed to Pope Pius XI for dispensation to allow him to wed Princess Giovanna of Italy, top. Boris, under the Bulgarian constitution, is a member of the Orthodox church, although he was born and baptized a Catholic. Princess Giovanna is of the latter faith.

BLACK-DRAUGHT
FOR INDIGESTIONKentucky Man Tells How He Suffered From Pains In Stomach.

Bronston, Ky.—"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught thirty-five or forty years, keep it in the house all the time, and would not be without it," says Mr. H. O. Grandstaff, of this place.

"I am 71 years old, and am reasonably stout. I attribute my good health to Black-Draught, as it is about all the medicine I ever take."

"I take Black-Draught mostly for stomach trouble. I think it practically relieved me. I take it when I feel any trouble coming on. I used to have pains in my stomach. I would also feel bloated and uncomfortable after meals, and then have a headache and dullness about the eyes. After I found out about Black-Draught, and would take small doses after meals, I was relieved."

"I don't have to take Black-Draught all the time—just occasionally."

Theodor's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable cathartic or laxative medicine, composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Good for children, men and women, and those of advanced age.

"Let's get up a Newspaper ad"

Number 12 in this series of advertising will appear in an early issue. Ad No. 11 depicted our ad being deferred to the reader.

"our Ad gains Reader ATTENTION"

THE bright, clean appearance of our ad, gained by a generous and judicious use of white space, is bound to attract the eye of our women readers. The trim, youthful figure in our "Roseanne Dress" illustration creates a desire to spend a pleasant hour or so selecting one of these dainty creations. Its price is appealing and thus our ad has added another customer to the lists of the lists of the "Roseanne Dress Shoppe."

The illustrations used throughout this series were produced in exactly the same manner as are all of those in our Meyer-Both General Newspaper Service. We control the exclusive franchise for this service in Hope and we urge all advertisers to make the greatest possible use of it.
